The United States Pilots Association is a national non-profit organization of pilots. Unlike most others, we are a unique organization which is operated and managed under the control of its members. We are organized to promote and develop the grass roots of aviation by coordinating the activities and communications between our member state pilots' associations, their respective members, our local chapters, and our individual members. We encourage and invite your participation in our many aviation activities at the national, state, and local levels. Members come from all professions and trades, but all share a common bond in their love for flying. We have qualified as an exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

We have as our goal the encouragement of pilot education and safety through educational, civic, recreational, and patriotic activities for our members and others interested in aviation.

The primary focus of our association is to assist in the development of strong and effective statewide pilots' associations, each of which supports the development of forceful local chapters that serve the aviation interests of their members and the community. We also foster the development of active local USPA chapters throughout the United States. We encourage mutual support among the states and local chapters and promote aviation safety, and pilot education. Each affiliated state organization, our local chapters, and our individual members have representation on our board of directors, thus making us genuinely a member controlled organization.

If you are interested in aviation, we believe that you can understand why there should be strong and effective pilots' organizations in each state, as well as local chapters in each community. Many of the problems facing aviation today originate at the state or local level. Combining our local, state, and national organizations gives us the vitality and strength to be heard, and to have an influential role at all levels of government.

For general aviation to survive, we must continue to unify and strengthen our voice. There is no better way to do this than by active participation in the United States Pilots Association and in its affiliated state pilots' organizations and local chapters. By sharing your experiences with your counterparts in the United States who have similar goals and objectives, you can enjoy flying, as well as help protect your right to continue to fly.

Sincerely,

Jeanette Hoynacki
Executive Director

THE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

The United States Pilots Association is an association of its member state pilots' organizations, each of their affiliate members, our local chapters and our individual members. The purpose of the national organization is to coordinate the activities and programs of the member states and local chapters and to promote flying. In addition, the national organization has implemented those programs that are designed to assist member state organizations and local chapters grow in stature and effectiveness. Projects and activities having national interest are promoted in the state organizations and local chapters, and leadership training for state and local chapter officers is one of the objectives of the national organization.

The association is controlled by our board of directors, who are elected by our individual members and who also serve on the board with those who have been appointed by each of our member state organizations and local chapters. In this way, our Board represents our members throughout the United States. Officers of our association are elected at our annual meeting of members in the second quarter of the year.

The board of directors meets quarterly to set the policies and provide for the management of the national association. These meetings provide a focal point for leadership training and for the promotion of flying activities, as well as pilot safety and educational programs for individual members, affiliated state organization officers and directors, local chapter officers, and members.

To provide financial support for the national organization, a dues structure has been established for member state organizations of $50 per year for less than 50 affiliated members and capped at $300 for over 500 affiliated members. Individual member dues are presently $35 per year, and provide many additional benefits. State member organizations and USPA local chapters currently receive a $5 rebate for each individual member in their organization.

Our national organization is divided into eight regions. Each region is served by a regional vice-president whose responsibility is to encourage member participation within their respective regions and to act as a liaison between our member state organizations and local chapters in the region and the national association. One of the primary interests of the regional vice-presidents is to assist in the development of state pilots' associations and local chapters in those states in the region which have no organized group. A number of committees have also been established to provide leadership for the various activities undertaken on a national and statewide basis. Committee activities carried on by the national association include: awards, airport development, finance, legislation, safety, education, and others.

The United States Pilots Association offers you the opportunity to belong to an organization in which you can participate, as well as help set the course for the future of aviation in our country. By working together, we can be a strong and effective force in the struggle to keep general aviation alive.

MEMBERSHIP AND BENEFITS

USPA members consist of pilots belonging to almost every other aviation group in the United States. The foundation of the United States Pilots Association is members working with members to secure the future of general aviation, while enhancing its enjoyment and safety. Furthermore, we promote your interest in flying to interesting places where our quarterly meetings are held.

While your tangible benefits of membership in our association are many and are constantly being expanded, we believe that the intangible benefits are equally rewarding. As testimony to that philosophy, a quote of one of our members at a recent meeting was, "If I didn't receive a dime's worth of tangible benefits from USPA, I would forever value, as priceless, the friendships of the people I have met and worked with in this great pilots' organization."

We publish a newsletter that is distributed monthly to our individual members and to the officers and national directors of each of our affiliated state organizations. The newsletter provides information about USPA activities and those of our member state organizations, as well as providing our members with interesting articles related to flying and aviation safety.

Individual members receive many more additional benefits, which include a monthly subscription to AMERICA'S FLYWAYS magazine, the monthly USPA Newsletter, USPA email news bulletins, a handbook and directory, an attractive lapel pin, a decal for a car or airplane, membership credentials, and many others.

MEETINGS

The United States Pilots Association is a flying organization that belongs to its members. In keeping with that philosophy, meetings are open to all members. Our members are invited and are encouraged to attend the quarterly meetings, as well as the annual meeting. Quarterly meetings are normally held on a weekend - a Friday and Saturday - at many attractive locations throughout the United States, which are selected so that members will be able to periodically participate at a location reasonably close to their homes. These meetings, while held to conduct the business of the association, also provide an opportunity for members to become acquainted with pilots in other states, encourage flying activities for members, enable us to share information, provide leadership training for state and local officers, and permit us to promote aviation safety and pilot education.
